(SPECIAL)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The gravity of the situation in Cuba, where a coup has led to the overthrow of the short-lived Céspedes government, prompted the American government today to despatch four naval vessels to Cuban waters.

In announcing the sending of the ships, Secretary of State Hull emphasized that it is not the intention of the American government to resort to intervention.

The status of the vessels, he said, is the same as when they were sent some weeks ago during the Machado administration. They will stand for (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

No new detours have been established in the local district according to the Detour Bulletin of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department for the week ending September 14. No oiling is scheduled in Western Pennsylvania during the week.

Attention of Pa Newscasters has been called to the fact that the distribution of flour at the Carnegie Auditorium recently referred to, has not been in the hands of the Red Cross for some time like six or eight weeks, but is now conducted by the State Emergency Relief Board of Lawrence County.

New Castle schools will start tomorrow. Many small children will be on the streets. New Castle motorists can avoid accidents if they will drive cautiously near the school zones. It is as much the responsibility of the motorist as of the child to avoid accidents.

One of the nicest rains of the summer fell Sunday morning, relieving the drought which has existed for several weeks. Vegetation received a good soaking.

Football practice got under way at Westminster college athletic field yesterday. Quite a nice squad reported for preliminary practice. Westminster college sessions will start later in the month.

Dear Pa Newscasters:
Dr. Wilkinson of Edgewood avenue, brought a surprise home Saturday morning. A Mexican Hairless Dog, is what he called it. It was in a basket. The neighbors all went down to see the "strange dog". As they uncovered the basket you should have seen their faces. They surely saw a hot dog. A Wiener with a few toothpicks in it. If the Edgewood avenue residents never got fooled before, this surely was the time.

Acute School Problems Are Looming In State As School Terms Open

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—The fall term of Pennsylvania's school year begins in earnest today.

An estimated 2,100,000 boys and girls—nearly one fifth of the population—will be in classrooms by the end of the week for the one hundredth term of the state's free school system, in rural districts sessions began a week or more ago, while in a few instances classes will not begin until tomorrow.

Enrollments Larger
New federal laws prohibiting the employment of children under 16 in industry have started a "back to the school" movement which has swelled the enrollment to the largest in history. Coinciding with that increase is a dubious financial situation which, educators fear, may delay the opening of the year.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL,

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A new truce between industry and labor became the goal of the NRA today in its effort to settle several problems of critical nature.

President Roosevelt, back from a brief vacation, was expected to take the lead in the movement after the situation is explained to him by Administrator Hugh S. Johnson.

Satisfied that the blue eagle campaign, which came to an official close with the passing of Labor Day, had brought more than 90 per cent of the nation's employers into the fold, NRA officials were keenly anxious to end the labor dispute.

Controversy On Open Shop.
The conflicting demands of non-union manufacturers and organized labor over the open shop and closed shop issue—with labor demanding the right of complete organization, and industry claiming the law bars the closed shop—were expected to be placed before the president and Attorney General Cummings.

The case of Henry Ford, who has not accepted the automobile code, a buying campaign, protection of consumers, action against blue eagle "chiselers" and the bituminous coal situation were among the pressing problems.

The issue between non-union industry and organized labor was clarified by Johnson's speech in Chicago (Continued On Page Two)

Outcome Of Ballotting Is Re-

(International News Service)
MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 5.—Traditions of three quarters of a century were arrayed against a surge of nation-wide wet sentiment today as Vermont held a special election on the question of ratification of the 21st amendment to repeal prohibition.

For fifty years, long before prohibition became the law of the land, the Green Mountain state had antiquated laws on its statute books—even now it has a law prohibiting the sale of beverages stronger than 3.2 per cent even in the event of national repeal, until further legislation is enacted.

Although both "wet" and "dry" factions were confident of victory, impartial observers predicted a close fight, with the dry rural sections opposed by the wet cities and larger communities.

Authorities said the bullets in the pistol were of the same type as those found in the officer's body.

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Sept. 5.—Every holiday ought to be named "Labor Day" if we could ever get vacations down to where you wasn't any more tired on the day one was over than on our regular work day. It would be wonderful.

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 5.—Physicians today held little hope for the life of Mrs. Elsie Bedilion, 28, who was shot four times by a scorned sweetheart in her apartment here last night before the intruder, Win. White, 40, ended his own life with another bullet.

Police said White had been attentive to Mrs. Caste and that she had avoided him. He forced his way into her apartment last night, and razor in hand, told her he was going to end it all. The woman fled into another room and White pumped four bullets through the door after dropping the razor.

White died instantly.

The shooting occurred yesterday when Stahic went to a neighborhood home to demand that Mrs. Steffenic return to his home from which she had fled several days ago. She refused and was shot to death. Stahic then fired a bullet into his head.

THREE SUSPECTS HELD IN SLAYING OF STATE OFFICER

the engine number of their auto, the same make as that used by the killers, were obliterated.

Brantlinger's dying words were: "Two guys in a Ford got me."

Police arrested the youths after stopping their auto on route 51 where a detail of officers had been established to halt every motorist in a systematic search for the gunmen.

Shot Down At Gas Station
Brantlinger was shot down when he sought to question two youths he found prowling around at a gas station near Bridgeville.

A checkup showed the pair had stolen gasoline and oil from the place. He had been a member of the highway force 18 months and had been attached to the Washington sub-station since March.

The young officer's death was the first murder within the ranks of the state police since Corporal Brady Paul was slain in Lawrence county in December, 1929, Irene Schroeder and Glenr Daguer were electrocuted for Paul's death.

Girls Aid Youths.
The girls, when questioned by police, corroborated stories told by two of the suspects that they had been in Johnstown keeping "dates" at the time Brantlinger was shot down by a pair of gasoline station bandits Labor Day morning.

Police said they believed the story told by the third youth now in custody, Roy Oline, 23, Sterling, Kan. Oline told officers he had been picked up by the other youths for the ride back to Kansas.

The other suspects gave their names as Ray Fisher, 21, and Junior Cassidy, 19, both of Sterling. All three were arrested when they became nervous and frustrated, police said, at being stopped on route 51 near here.

They told officers they were college students from Kansas and knew nothing of Brantlinger's death.

Police, however, announced they intended to keep all three youths in custody temporarily at least until the story told by the two girls could be checked.

SCHOOLS OPEN ON WEDNESDAY

the board of directors, our fiscal condition in the schools is sound. To do this it has been necessary to make certain retrenchments and while these have meant curtailment of service and reductions in salaries they have also meant that the credit of the district has been kept solvent and all bills have been met.

As teachers we can aid materially in this economy program by seeing to it that nothing is wasted.

"This condition will not last forever. When the economic skies clear, and conditions return to normal, the fathers and the mothers of the United States are going to demand the high standard of education to which they have been accustomed. They will demand for future generations the same excellence they have received for the past ones."

"Carry on is the message that I bring you today. All of you have co-operated admirably in the past and I know that you will do so again this year. The record of the teachers in New Castle is an outstanding one and I can ask for nothing more than the same measure of co-operation you have given your school authorities in the past."

Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg, president of Slippery Rock State Teachers college was to have been the speaker of the day but was detained by duties at the college. Dr. Green took his place.

Devotional By Dr. McClure
The devotional service was in charge of Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. After reading a portion of scripture he led the assemblage in prayer. The meeting lasted less than an hour, starting at eleven o'clock Daylight Savings time.

Following the program, the announcements were made. Each principal called a meeting of his teachers, some of them immediately following the gathering and others for this afternoon in the buildings.

The school system is ready for the opening of schools Wednesday morning. Repairs have been made where they were necessary, the teaching staffs are full, and nothing stands in the way of the system getting off to a flying start Wednesday.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Sept. 5.—After a night of terror, residents of Corpus Christi today prepared to face the further fury of a tropical storm.

Storm warnings remained up today, while a gale of 88 miles an hour beat against this section of the coast. Water from the shifting tides swept intermittently into the streets, leaving thick trails of mud.

Little damage was done last night. Fires broke out over the city in many sections, but were quickly brought under control.

The worst damage was done to the beach resort section, which was under four feet of water. All persons had left the area before the storm struck.

SEEK NEW TRUCE BETWEEN LABOR AND INDUSTRY

and by statements of industrial and labor leaders.

Johnson's Attitude.
While labor must be given the right to organize, Johnson in effect ruled the closed shop would interfere with the freedom of employers under the law, unless they themselves chose this method.

With resumption of negotiations for a bituminous coal code, in which the closed shop issue is specifically raised, an opportunity was offered to bring the entire dispute to a head.

A code of fair competition for the automobile industry became effective today. Unless Ford subscribes he can be charged with violating the law, because a code proclaimed for an industry is binding on all in that industry, recovery officials said.

Johnson is known to be clinging to the hope of a peaceful settlement with Ford.

Buying Campaign.
The buying campaign of the NRA begins Sept. 26—with every official urging the public to start buying immediately, unless the public supports manufacturers who are forced to bear higher costs, the entire movement will fail, Johnson warned his Chicago audience.

When Mr. Roosevelt appealed to the country six weeks ago to make the blue eagle campaign a success by Labor Day, the effort was based upon voluntary action.

Now, with some codes proclaimed, hearing dates to be set for recalcitrant industries, and the blue eagle placed in millions of windows, the NRA must decide what it will do with violators.

While Johnson has hoped to avoid disciplinary action, it is known some of his aides are planning to select test cases of violations and start court action.

POLICE OFFICER CAPTURES PAIR CRACKING SAFE

socket preparatory to blowing open the safe, when the officer happened on the scene.

Keeping his prisoners at bay under the point of his revolver, Harlan called for assistance over the convenient telephone of the store. The men were turned over to officers detailed to the scene and taken to the police station.

Claim Petersburg As Home

There they gave the names of Joseph Patterson and Steve Ketzec. The former is a hunchback and 41 years of age.

He has been working in the vicinity of Petersburg, O. for some time. He claims to be an automobile mechanic and also to have worked as a coal miner.

Ketzec is 17 years of age and claims to have been working on a farm in the vicinity of Petersburg, O. for the past eight months.

They claimed to have hitch hiked here yesterday. In the vicinity of the safe was found a small sledge, part of a stick of dynamite, a driving pin, a chisel, wrecking bar and two pairs of gloves. Patterson alleges that he brought the dynamite and cap from a mine.

After their arrest both admitted that they were in the store for the purpose of blowing the safe. Later they changed their story to the effect that they had just gone into the store to sleep.

Police believe that they have been blowing safes in this district for some time past and are trying to connect them up with the Enon Valley post office and other jobs in this section.

The pair wore gloves apparently to prevent any finger prints being left on the tools.

They claimed to have stolen the tools found from a truck in the rear of the Rick-Overland garage.

Find Auto Near

Police do not believe that they hitch hiked here. They believe that they came over in a Chevrolet roadster bearing an Ohio license, which was found in the rear of the Hromyak Service station, a few doors east of the scene of the robbery. It was filled with gasoline and ready to make a quick start.

Inquiry at East Palestine, O., where the license was issued, was made by the police and R. C. Camberlain, the man issuing the automobile licenses in that place, stated that it had been issued to Arthur Ketzec, 102 Liberty street, East Palestine. Whether this is a relative or the man arrested, the police have not yet determined. The only discrepancy in regard to the car is that license was issued for a sedan and the car here is a roadster. This may be explained, the police state by the fact that the car here may have been stolen.

Police found that entrance was gained by jimmying a side window. On entering they unbolted the rear door so as to make a speedy getaway. Norman Cox, the proprietor of the store was called and locked up the place.

Chief of Police John F. Haken plans to make an information charging the two men with breaking and entering and cracking a safe before Alderman O. H. P. Green some time today.

Honor Golden Wedding Of Dr. And Mrs. Stewart

Father Time turned back the pages of history Saturday evening and, before a huge crowd of friends who had gathered in the Reformed Presbyterian church to honor Dr. and Mrs. James S. Stewart of North Mercers street, re-enacted a wedding of 50 years ago.

Walking down the church aisle as Miss Kathryn Newberry played on the organ "The Bridal March" by Wagner, and preceded by flower girls whose mothers came from Syria, the land where Dr. and Mrs. Stewart labored so long as servants of the Lord, the bride of a half century ago (then Miss Mary E. Love), joined her life partner at the altar. Mrs. Stewart carried a beautiful arm bouquet of roses which had been sent for the occasion by her grandchildren. With Dr. Stewart was his best man of the bridal days, Robert A. Patterson.

Saturday evening's gathering was a most impressive one and showed in what high esteem Dr. and Mrs. Stewart are held by the city of New Castle, and by the congregation of the Reformed Presbyterian church. It was a gesture of sincere appreciation for their long years of honorable and helpful service in missionary work, and in regard to their successful raising of four excellent children—Charles A. Stewart, who is a missionary in India; R. S. Stewart, general manager of the Socony Vacuum Oil corporation at Cairo, Egypt; C. J. Stewart, with the same corporation, stationed at Jerusalem, Palestine, and Mrs. E. M. Workman, wife of a U. S. navy chaplain, Philadelphia.

Dr. E. A. Crooks brought greetings from the church at large as well as the community. Music was furnished by Miss Kathryn Newberry at the piano; Russell Rhodes, vocal; Mr. Branstetter, piano; Michael Caruso, violin; Mrs. Clinton Keagy, vocal, and Miss Helen Allen, vocal. Readings were given by Miss Elizabeth Milholland and Miss Dorothy Riley.

The best man, Robert A. Patterson, brought back memories of that September wedding day. Greetings were brought to the couple from the O. C. Orr class by Mrs. William McClelland, from the Christian Endeavor society by John Riley, Jr., from the deacons by Miss Martha Dodds, from the Missionary society by Mrs. Merle Allen, from the session by Dr. James M. Blackwood.

FAITH IN THE SUBSIDY

THE idea of destroying part of the cotton crop was not original with the authors of the New Deal. The staple was in oversupply long before the country heard of the New Deal, and as long as there has been overproduction there has been talk of burning bales or plowing under rows.

For years the planters have been meeting to consider plaps. At these gatherings they have solemnly vowed to burn part of the bales in their sheds and then gone home to watch the skies for the glare that would prove that someone was fool enough to burn his cotton. The only man who was ever careless with fire around cotton was General Sherman.

Other plans proposed were crop reduction and the plowing under of every third row. But nothing ever came of it. In 1931 the Hoover administration proposed that every third row be destroyed. Nothing was done. The Louisiana legislature made it illegal to plant cotton in 1932, provided that three-fourths of the other cotton states followed Louisiana's example. They refused.

Why, then, was the idea such an instantaneous success under the Roosevelt administration after so many failures? Because the New Deal scheme is the first that has offered the planter an immediate return in dollars and cents for his destroyed bales. He can see the advantage of plowing under a quarter of his crop for $6 or more per acre where he was not economist enough to realize that by reducing his crop he would create a better price for the bales he did produce. He has confidence in the government's ability and good intentions to pay him, whereas he could not depend upon the other planters to burn their surplus bales or plow under their surplus acres.

THE ST. LOUIS EPIDEMIC

The seriousness of the "sleeping sickness" epidemic in St. Louis is evidenced by the presence there of Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general of the United States public health service. Several members of the public health service staff already had been assigned to duty in St. Louis. Dr. Cumming, soon after his arrival, summoned two other members.

Over 50 lives have been taken in the epidemic which has persisted for several weeks despite the efforts of some of the country's most able physicians to check it. A few cases of the baffling disease has appeared in adjoining states, but there has been no rapid spread beyond St. Louis.

Neither its cause nor how it is spread has been fully discovered. Both lines of investigation are claiming the attention of trained scientists. Success of either would provide a base from which to attack the epidemic and perhaps the disease itself. Some progress is reported.

The physicians engaged in the fight are striking almost in the dark. Although the disease has been long studied here and in Europe, little of value is known about it. The St. Louis outbreak is said to be the most serious ever experienced in this country.

The fight will be watched with anxious interest by the entire nation, although the spread of the epidemic is not yet such as to cause general alarm.

TYRANNY ALWAYS LOSES

From this distance it was not possible at first to determine whether the situation in Cuba was due to a bad government or to politicians who coveted power badly.

Now it is possible to perceive through the confusion, uncertainty and strife a national spirit taking form. At first it was not quite clear just what the Cuban people were fighting, rebelling and dying for. Under the Machado regime thousands of Cubans, young and old, were willing to make every sacrifice and to suffer and die to give to their island republic a government responsive to the public desire. There are times when nations find that life is more than meat and raiment.

One of the charges against Machado was that he ran the country and the government for the benefit of American interests which kept him in power, a charge implying that Washington kept men like President Machado in power that American bankers might exploit the country without molestation.

While Cuba prospered it was indifferent to its government and to the graft and exploitation, even as the United States was indifferent to its own disordered house while everyone prospered, but for a decade now Cuba has been sugar poor and conscious of its economic and political plight.

President Machado is out for the reason that he made the mistake the "ins" usually make. Had he betrayed the interests that put him in power, instead of continuing to betray the Cuban people, he probably would still be president.

DE PINEDO GOES TO HIS DEATH

One of the most skillful and daring of flyers, the Marchese Francesco de Pinedo, kept his rendezvous with death at the Floyd Bennett airport on Saturday. He was setting out for Baghdad when his plane burst into flames and ended tragically a brilliant career. He had been out of the game for some years, a diplomatic attaché at Buenos Aires. But the courage which marked his four-continent excursion in 1927, and supported him when he came down in mid Atlantic, was not conquered by this comparative oblivion. He had made all his plans for a new series of adventures.

Peril means little to the men who are bent upon the domination of the air. They do not often set off rashly; they understand the need of careful planning. But the best of them may make miscalculations at a critical moment. In this case De Pinedo came down in a few seconds by reason of an unlucky start and a neglected open switch. There will be deep regret at such a passing from the scene as this.

It is easy to mistake ignorance for a good disposition.

IMPRESS YOUR FAMILY

Are you a good loser everywhere except in your own home?

You like to have your friends and acquaintances believe you take setbacks in a philosophical way; that you are bigger than the annoyances which cause other men to have such grave concern.

But how do you talk and act when the door closes you into your own home?

Grumbling, criticizing, whining you don't give evidence of "taking it on the chin."

Your oft-repeated tales of your hard luck worry the family, sick.

Your prophecy of future dire results are like a heavy cloud over the horizon to all your family, with no hope for relief in sight.

You do not think of saving your family from anxiety and worry.

But outside your home you try to bolster the courage of others and you are optimistic in your speech and actions.

No, instead of saving your family mental pain, you add to it.

Why put up such a good front for outsiders to see instead of for those who are most interested in you?

Do you think that the family are too frivolous so you must keep them down with hard times atmosphere?

This is what he said: In all his life he'd done no useful thing; Had led, dodging children and a wife,

Symposium of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nations on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press AssociationNational Call Is Broadcast For Rescue Of Menaced ElmsPress Indorses Warning Of Department Of Agriculture In Order That Majestic Trees May Be Saved From Fate Of Chestnuts

Experience with destruction of chestnut trees in the United States has forced the warning from the Department of Agriculture that a blight also menaces the elm trees. The Dutch elm disease, in which a fungus is the deadly agent, is in its initial stages, and the newspapers take up the call of the government for the rescue of these trees. Elm blight is acquainted with the blight and failure to destroy infected sections of a tree is described as serious neglect.

"It is possible," thinks the NEW YORK SUN "that the disease is not yet so firmly established here as to resist a general cooperative attack on it. The elm is one of the noblest of trees and no effort that will eliminate or stay the Dutch elm disease is too costly or too arduous to be undertaken."

The sun also gives the scientific details of the plague which threatens: "Progress of the disease varies with trees. In some cases it may kill in a season. In others the tree may survive for several years, the fungus spreading slowly. According to European investigators they have found that trees become infected through buds, twigs, limbs, trunks or roots. The fungus grows principally on the sapwood. In Europe spread of the disease is now believed to be accomplished by the elm-bark beetle, Scolytus scolytus Fabr, which carries the fungus on its body, wounds the tree and introduces the disease through the wound. The beetle has not been found here, but other insects may perform a similar service."

The fungus causing the disease is closely related to organisms that produce blue stains in pine, gum and other trees. At present it is sometimes impossible to tell from examination in the field whether a wilted elm is a victim of the Dutch elm disease because other fungi and bacteria produce similar types of discoloration. Laboratory examination is necessary to reach a decision.

Pointing out that "east of the Ohio river a chestnut tree is now hard to find," the DAYTON DAILY NEWS states that "the Dutch blight now threatens a similar disaster to the elm," and observes that "immediately the force of the Federal government is directed against the foe." The Daily News adds: "The resources of science are such that, given the necessary financial support, plagues such as, a century ago, would have put an end to the tree attacked, can now be isolated and ultimately suppressed."

THE ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS adds that the disease "is killing trees over a restricted area, but unless brought under control at once, will sweep the country as the chestnut blight did, leaving hardly a healthy tree in its wake." That paper echoes the warning that "when the chestnut blight struck the United States, little was done about it until too late to save this valuable supply of food and timber," that "the Federal and State governments will not repeat that oversight."

Appraisal of the elm as "one of the most highly regarded shade trees" is made by the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, and that paper adds: "The Dutch elm disease is spread by the elm beetle which even the frequent rains that have marked the passing Summer have not served to check. During a season marked by the appearance of various forms of insect or parasitic pest it stands out as perhaps the most destructive. x x x x The elm as planted in an earlier day became characteristic of the less hurried tempo of the time. The streets might have been narrower than modern civilization demands, but they satisfied our fathers. A typical street a generation ago was a restful and dignified thoroughfare. Then came Progress, the capital kind that old settlers deplore in their immediate environment. Protest was made. But now come bacteria, akin to the chestnut blight, that like elms too well. And the local elms are joining too many of their brothers in other parts of the country in succumbing. An enemy has arisen that puts even Progress in the background. x x x x "It is exceedingly important, in the opinion of the Department of Agriculture," reports the ATLANTA JOURNAL, "that persons interested in trees to be guard against this fungus, which, if it should spread, would prove ever more destructive than the chestnut blight." The Journal also advises that "any one whose elm tree shows a premature wilting, yellowing or browning of the leaves, along with brownish streaks in the young wood, will do well to get in touch with a competent forester." That paper quotes an authority as saying that "apparently no species of elm tree is immune."

"One hates to imagine," remarks the HARTFORD TIMES, "what many a city street and highway vista would look like with the towering elms destroyed." The Times continues: "The Dutch sun disease was first discovered in Holland thirteen years ago. It has wrought havoc with elms in that country and in Germany and England. Three years ago it was noted on a few trees in Cleveland and Cincinnati. Fewer

ALL IN THE HORN.

All that James Middlebrooks, extensive pork producer near Blackshear, Ga., has to do to call the hogs on his several farms, is to honk the horn on his car, and big and little, come running from all directions.

There came a day when the usual honking failed to bring any porkers. He honked again and again. Still no hogs.

The reason dawned upon him when he remembered this was the first time he had tried the stunt since getting a new car. The hogs just didn't pay any attention to the new horn.

Middlebrooks then traced his old car, traded in, down to Jacksonville, Fla., got the old horn from it and put it on his new car. Now the hogs answer his call as usual.

Swedish Girl Has Experience Crossing Ocean

Set Sail For United States Two Months Ago, Halted By Ice
In Labrador, Turned Back

(International News Service)
GOTHAB, Greenland, Sept. 5.—Miss Aina Cederblom, Swedish girl who set out from her native land two months ago to sail to the United States in a 15-foot boat, arrived here with a thrilling tale of adventure which would have been a test for the stoutest of hearts.

Miss Cederblom left Goteborg, Sweden, intending to stop at Iceland and Greenland on her transatlantic journey, but she revealed today, she went all the way to the Labrador coast without a stop.

Her troubles just began there, however, for she found the ice impenetrable and she was unable to land her small craft, an auxiliary engine open motor boat.

She headed back eastward, pointing for Greenland, and used her last drop of gasoline just as she came in sight of the coast. Even then she had a narrow escape from death, being sighted by a fisherman who rescued her and prevented her being carried back out to sea.

Sons Of Italy Delegate At Clearfield, Pa.

Angelo Mastrantuono Is Representative At State Convention Of Order

Angelo Mastrantuono was the delegate of Trionfo Italiano Lodge No. 1171 of this city at the state convention of the Sons of Italy, which opened Thursday, August 31 at Dimling Hotel, Clearfield, and came to a close on Monday.

Many delegates from all parts of the state were in attendance. On the opening day, the bands of the Orphans Home of the Sons of Italy led a parade to the cemetery of Clearfield, where flowers were placed on the graves of world war veterans. In addition to the regular sessions of the convention, other features were the dance given Friday evening in the Sons of Italy Hall to the delegates, dedication of the Flag of Martha Washington Lodge of Clearfield Saturday at the hall of the lodge, banquet in honor of the delegates on Sunday and the parade at two o'clock Monday afternoon in which scores of lodges in that section of the state were represented by large delegations and the picnic held after the parade at Clearfield Driving Park.

Many matters of importance to the order in the state were transacted during the sessions of the convention.

Original Cost Of Court House Here Was Only $32,000

Some Figures Regarding Population Of County And Village Of New Castle

While looking over a history of Lawrence county, Register of Deeds, Thomas Edmunds, found some data regarding the present court house.

The land on which it stands was donated by Daniel Crawford. The contract was let in 1850 to James M. V. Craig and William Hamilton for $12,000. Work was begun in the fall of 1850 and the building was completed in 1852.

Many changes were made in the original plans. Among them was the addition of the fluted Ionic columns of gray sandstone and the front. When the extras were all figured up it was found that the building cost $32,000. Since that time there has been an addition built.

The population of the county at that time, according to the census, was 21,079. The borough of New Castle had but 1,614 residents.

In 1860 the population of the county is given at 22,999 and the borough of New Castle, 1,882.

In 1870 the county had 27,298 population and New Castle 6,164.

Johnson Says Next Move Up To Henry Ford

Government May Force Detroit Manufacturer Into NRA Compliance

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—"It's Henry Ford's move."

Gen. Hugh Johnson, NRA administrator, gave that reply here today to International News Service when questioned about the motor magnate's refusal to join the NRA movement.

With collar unbuttoned and tie off, the frank NRA director stated emphatically that Ford will not get the blue eagle until he files the certificate of compliance along with other members of the automobile industry.

Asked if the government planned intervention to bring the Detroit automobile maker into the fold, Gen. Johnson asserted:

"May intervene. There's one thing Mr. Ford might do which would necessitate enforcement and that would be his refusal to bargain with employees."

The general pointed out that section 7A of the national recovery act provides such a privilege upon the part of workmen.

"If he violates that section of the NRA," Gen. Johnson said, "we will be forced to take enforcement measures."

"What steps might be taken?" Gen. Johnson was asked.

The general stated that one method that might be employed would be the refusal of the United States government to grant Ford a license for interstate commerce.

The car to cross the road, darting out in front of Hoover's machine. The Hoover car was traveling at a fairly high rate of speed, and Mr. Hoover had no warning of Williams' action. Williams was hurled to the side of the road, terribly injured. An ambulance was summoned and he was brought to the New Castle hospital, where he died, two hours later.

The fatality was investigated by Coroner Orville Potter, and Corporal L. J. Lawton and Patrolman W. E. Stoops of the State Highway patrol. They released Hoover on his own recognizance, to appear for a hearing if "it is deemed necessary."

No Inquest Likely
Coroner Potter stated today that it was unlikely that an inquest would be held, as there seemed to be little doubt but that the accident could not have been avoided.

Mr. Clark who was a witness to the tragedy, stated that the orchard where Williams had seen parties picking fruit, did not belong to his father, but was on an adjoining farm.

Ralph Lawrence Williams was born in Watertown, N. Y., and had lived in this vicinity for the past seven years. He was a veteran of the World War and a carpenter by occupation. He was a member of the First Christian church.

He is survived by his wife, Francis Oakie Williams. His body was taken to Burke's Funeral Home pending arrangements for funeral services.

WHEAT GROWERS TO HEAR ABOUT REDUCTION PLAN

Will Distribute Forms
Mr. Brittain urges all growers interested in applying for contracts to reduce acreage and receive the allotment payments to attend the meeting scheduled for his community. Forms to be filled in by each applicant will be distributed at the meeting and the director in charge of the meeting will explain the terms of the contract and answer questions about the requirements and provisions imposed by the wheat plan.

The forms include three copies of the application for contract, one copy to be retained by the applicant, one copy to go to the county control association and the third copy to go to Washington; the report of production and disposal of wheat to be attested to by the grower; certificate of receipt, purchase or shipment to be attested to by the one getting the wheat; thresherman's certificate, map of the farm to be made out in duplicate and sample form of the contract.

Members of the board of directors have received from the wheat administration at Washington all the essential information on the production control plan. They can tell what the allotments are, the basis for determining them, how the payments of benefits will be made, how much reduction in acreage must be made by each grower based upon his past production, what can be grown on the land retired from wheat production and other questions raised by the prospective applicant.

That it has failed to clear the government ranks of all "Machadist influences."

The totally unexpected mass action against De Cespedes occurred only 22 days after the new government took office following the resignation of former President Gerardo Machado.

The army likewise had been responsible for Machado's resignation, but in that case it was the officers who turned against him. Today's insurrection was staged under the leadership of Sergeant Fulgencio Batista, who proclaimed himself the constituted leader of the enlisted men.

Revolutionists Act
Unmindful of the fact De Cespedes has taken no action as yet on the demand for his resignation, the Revolutionaries established what they termed a "provisional government."

This junta consisted of Sergio Carbo, Communist leader; Guillermo Francia, Josemiguel Izazuri, Ramon Grau San Martin and Porfirio Lora. The last named is expected to be succeeded by Carlos de la Torre, former president of Havana University, who was exiled by Machado.

The coup d'etat was carried out in the two hours before dawn, while President De Cespedes was at Sagua, 200 miles from Havana, supervising relief work for sufferers in the recent hurricane.

He received the army's ultimatum while aboard a hand-car with a number of other state officials. Up to a late hour this morning, there was no indication of his intentions.

The first action of the rebels was to appoint former Lieutenant Emilio Laurent, one of the leaders of the 1931 rebellion against Machado, as chief of police.

They then established the junta and named a directing board to handle government expenses following the resignation of De Cespedes.

The first period today was undoubtedly light because of other conflicting interests, but unless some material increase is shown in the afternoon and evening periods, the third day will be a landslide or the registration will be a failure.

For District Attorney

Alvah Shumaker

In the course of a political campaign many arguments are advanced in favor of the respective candidates. Some of these arguments possess merit, others are designed to arouse sympathy, and others are invented merely to confuse the voter.

In the final analysis two questions are of the utmost importance. Is the candidate a man of personal integrity? Is his previous experience sufficient to assure an efficient and economical administration of the office?

For your consideration I submit the following facts:

1. At various times I have acted as assistant district attorney and am familiar with the duties of the office.
2. I have had experience in the prosecution of major crimes, including murder.
3. I have appeared before the Board of Pardons.
4. I have handled extradition papers.
5. During the past seven years I have tried more cases in court than any of my opponents.
6. In the higher courts during the same time I have had more experience than all of my opponents combined.

Upon This Basis I Ask Your Support

Nearly Seven Hundred Enjoy Home Coming At Harlansburg School

Home coming of former teachers and pupils of Harlansburg school Saturday brought a crowd of nearly seven hundred persons to the village. The picnic was held in the new school building, where big tables were spread in the auditorium.

An orchestra, composed of Carl Kneram and William Burnside, and Mr. Morrow, all of New Castle furnished delightful music.

Rev. A. C. Locke, of Erie, a former pupil at Harlansburg, asked a blessing on the assemblage. Aside from that, there was no speech making, the day being spent in renewing old friendships. Some of those present had not seen each other for over forty years, and it was naturally a great pleasure for them to meet and talk over old times.

The affair was in charge of a committee composed of Dr. J. E. Burton chairman, J. P. Burnside, secretary and treasurer, C. H. Turner, Jacob McCracken, G. H. Kneram, S. A. Locke, R. B. Jordan, J. L. Burton and Dr. W. D. Cleland. Their arrangements had been made so perfectly that they were all re-elected for next year, with authority to set the date for the next reunion.

During the afternoon a ball game was played between Princeton and Harlansburg, which Princeton won. In another game between the younger generation and the older pupils, the younger carried off the honors.

The oldest native born resident at the reunion was Samuel Kneram, 72. The oldest teacher present was A. W. Harbison, of this city, who taught the Harlansburg school around 1875. The oldest pupil present was Mrs. Hannah Waddington of New Brighton. She was a daughter of the late Squire Henry Emery of Scott township. She started to school at Harlansburg in 1851.

Former teachers present were: A. W. Harbison, New Castle; David P. Thompson, Pulaski; Lattimer Studebaker, Erie; I. N. Moore, Slippery Rock; Mrs. James Jordan, nee Anna Macom, Grove City; Helen M. Hutchinson, Slippery Rock; T. J. Armstrong, Leesburg; James Cameron,

"A SAFETY-STEEL BODY SAVED MY LIFE!"

"Ten tons landed on my Plymouth
... and I lived to tell the Tale"

FRED C. NOBLE is a Plymouth salesman. But Mr. Noble isn't giving you sales talk when he tells you you're safer in a Plymouth!

He's alive today to talk to you—because Plymouth has a modern safety-steel body!

The pictures tell the story. How a three and a half ton truck with a six and a half ton load crashed over on top of Noble's car.

They don't show the terrific impact of those ten tons traveling at 40 miles an hour! They don't show how the force of the crash drove the wheels four inches into the solid earth!

The Plymouth was found to be perfectly in line after the accident—the doors opened and closed perfectly. But these things are not the point. A life was saved. Saved because Plymouth is built of steel reinforced with steel.

We hope you never have a ten-ton load drop on to your car. But if you do—we hope, for your sake, you are traveling in a modern car—with a safety-steel body built to fit today.

If you want to see the difference—just call on any Plymouth dealer.

STANDARD MODELS priced from $445 to $516; Deluxe Models, $495 to $595. Prices are subject to change without notice. All prices F. O. B. Factory, Detroit. Convenient terms.

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH FRED C. NOBLE, PLYMOUTH SALESMAN, STAMFORD, CONN.

"DRIVING DOWN GRADE, I signalled for a left turn. A big truck was right behind me."

"I MADE THE TURN—crash! The weight of the truck and load landed on my car!"

"FRIENDS MARVEL that I escaped without serious injury. The credit goes to Plymouth."

"EVERY TIME I LOOK at these youngsters of mine now—I thank heaven that Plymouth designers are satisfied only with safety-steel bodies."

Fresh Vegetables electrically

HE bought his wife an electric range, and this is his reward. Corn on the cob, green peas, wax beans. Fresh from the garden. Cooked sweet, tender, succulent. He used to think of vegetables as something served with meat. Now he smacks his lips and asks for more.

On the electric range vegetables cook in their own juices. Natural salts and minerals are retained; not thrown down the drain with excess water. "Garden-fresh" vegetables take on a more delicious flavor. Meals are tasty, healthful.

No room here to tell you all about the electric range. How cool it is! Completely insulated oven with no air currents to force heat into the kitchen. How clean! Never blackens cooking utensils.

And how completely automatic! Prepare dinner in the forenoon, put it in the oven and set the automatic control. The electric range cooks an entire meal perfectly, while you are shopping downtown, visiting, playing golf or tennis.

You must see the electric range demonstrated to realize all it can do for you. Won't you come in today?

HEAVY GUARD WATCHES BAILEY IN OKLAHOMA

Desperado Now Kept In Shackles

Start Probe Of Sensational Escape From Dallas Jail On Monday

ENJOYS ONLY FOUR HOURS OF LIBERTY

(International News Service)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 5.—In shackles and handcuffs, Harvey Bailey, desperado charged with the two major crimes of the year, today was in solitary confinement in the county jail while federal authorities investigated his spectacular escape from jail at Dallas, Texas. Twelve guards were keeping a constant watch over the desperado who is awaiting trial for the $200,000 kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel here and the machine gun massacre of four officers and a prisoner at Kansas City.

Recaptured After Escape
A caravan of six automobiles commanded by federal authorities and manned by guards armed with machine guns brought Bailey here yesterday from Ardmore, Okla., where he was captured four hours after his escape from the Dallas county jail.

A federal inquiry into the escape was under way at Dallas under the direction of R. H. Colvin, Bureau of Investigation district head, after Joseph B. Keenan, federal anti-crime administrator, charged that "corruption" was responsible for Bailey's flight.

How Bailey had obtained a pistol and saw blades for cutting the steel bars of his solitary confinement cell was the object of a grand jury investigation at Dallas.

Hunt Suspects In New York
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A smart, stout woman, modestly dressed and carrying a black grip was the center of a feverish search by police and federal agents here today.

She is the sweetheart of Harvey Bailey, notorious outlaw, who fled the Dallas, Texas, jail in a spectacular escape, only to be recaptured four hours later, after a thrilling airplane and motor car chase.

In her grip is believed to be at least part of the $200,000 in marked bills paid in ransom for the release of the kidnaped Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire.

Three other members of the kidnaping gang are thought to be with her—George R. "Machine Gun" Kelly, his wife Katherine, a slender pretty brunette and Edward W. Bentz.

CAMPERS TO RETURN TO SCHOOL WEDNESDAY

Lovely Film Star Charged With "Forgotten" Love Theft

Several persons, on or off the screen have been the subject of so much romantic gossip as beautiful Claire Windsor, blonde screen star, who is now fighting a $100,000 suit brought against her at Los Angeles by Mrs. Marion Reade, of Oakland, Cal., who charges the beautiful Claire stole the affections of her husband, Alfred Reade, Jr. But, according to Reade, he doesn't remember having any affections pilfered, nor does he admit being enamored of Miss Windsor. ## Police Hear Of Quite A Number Of Accidents Over The Week End Holiday

John Dix of 509 North Mercer street, sustained serious injuries Sunday, when he walked into the front of the car of Frank Guido, 418 Bleakley avenue, at Washington and Jefferson streets on the Public Square. According to the report made by Mr. Guido to the police, he was driving south on Jefferson street and making a left turn to go east on Washington street at the Public Square, when Mr. Dix walked from the south side of Washington street into the front of his machine and was knocked to the street. He picked him up and took him to the New Castle Hospital.

George P. Campbell of New Kensington, was enroute west on Grant street near Locust street Sunday, when Cecil Bazley of 315 Neal street, enroute east on Grant street, pulled to the left directly in front of the Campbell machine. Mr. Campbell was compelled to drive up over the curb to avoid a collision with the Bazley car and his machine was somewhat damaged. Bazley told the police that Horace McHenry who was in the car with him, grabbed the wheel and this caused his machine to go out of its course.

Kiwanis Meeting To Be Important

Will Elect Delegates To District Convention In Washington In October

Wednesday's noon luncheon and meeting of the Kiwanis club in The Castleton will be an important one. Julius Blaha, chairman of the vocational guidance committee of the club has secured Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, as the principal speaker of the day.

At this meeting sufficient time will be taken to name two delegates and three alternates to represent the club at the district convention in Washington October 2, 3 and 4. This action will be taken at the recommendation of the board of directors.

On September 20 the local club will act as host at an inter-club meeting, which will occur at the Field club, starting with golf in the afternoon and ending with a dinner in the evening. Seventeen clubs in the western Pennsylvania district have been contacted, and a large number of visitors are expected here on that date.

WRECKERS TO RAZE THE SMALLEST STORE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 5. — The smallest store in Harrisburg, which constituted a busy spot for almost half a century, is destined to become only a memory.

Wreckers have begun to raze the two and one-half story structure, along with two adjoining buildings, to make way for a bus terminal. The building is only six feet wide, of old-fashioned clapboard construction with a tin roof and low eaves.

Foresee Battle In State Over Liquor Control

Governor Pinchot Said To Favor Following Canadian Plan

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Another protracted legislative battle over a liquor control bill between
Gov. Gifford Pinchot and the Republican was presaged with the announcement that State Senator Joseph C. Trainer is drafting a measure modeled along the old Brooks high license law for submission at the expected special session.

The bill will carry a provision for a special referendum every five years in every county in the state if desired by the electorate. It will also vest the licensing authority in the hands of common pleas judges as did the Brooks law.

Announcement that Senator Trainer is drafting the measure was made today coincident with a statement issued by State Representative
Clinton A. Showers, Vice leader here, in which the governor's reported plans for legislation modeled after the Ontario, Canada, plan were criticized.

Governor Pinchot's alliance with Democrats in support of his proposed "Ontario" bill indicate that the legislature may see another battle such as marked passage of the recent beer control bill.

Representative Showers, in his statement, said:

"We might as well be without any real laws if this state or any other state adopts the so-called Canadian liquor control system."
"Such a system, which Governor
Pinchot is trying to copy will defeat the main purpose of the repeal of the 18th amendment and that is to obtain revenue."

"President Roosevelt makes no bones about why he favors bringing back the sale of liquor. We need the money and the only way we can get the money and still have real control of the situation is to pass a law which will allow the people to buy their liquor in regular licensed places of convenience."

BURGLAR IS POLITE IN WOMAN'S ROOM

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—Attributes of Harrisburg's thieves are considered rare but city police conceded them that of "politeness."

Awakened by a noise in her room,
Mrs. Rose Alexander told police that she discerned a dark figure standing at the foot of her bed. Her dresser had been ransacked and clothing was strewn about the floor.
She observed that the man had taken her wrist watch.

Mrs. Alexander asked him to return it.

"It is not customary for a burglar to return anything," the invader informed her. However, he acceded to her wishes and returned the time-piece.

WILD CARROT MENACE

Mr. Geo. Conway,
Editor of News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:—
A few weeks ago some one wrote you regarding the weeds on vacant lots but worse than that is the way wild carrot is being allowed to grow on lawns and in gardens all over the city.

Most people do not seem to know that Pennsylvania has a law against letting wild carrot grow or, knowing the law, they utterly disregard it.

The seeds of this weed are now ripening and since there are often hundreds of seeds on a single plant one can readily see how rapidly it multiplies until it becomes a pest.

Since Pennsylvania has this law it would seem that something should be done so I suggest that each property owner clean up his lot, not allowing a single plant to grow and in so doing, we shall soon be rid of wild carrot.

Very truly yours,
MARGARET RUTHAUFF,
New Castle, Pa.

Cups

Mayor Charles Mayne Gives
Champions Awards; Baer-
McFate Put Up Battle

Lowell H. Wingerd and Francis Sowersby met the doubles champions for New Castle's fourth annual tennis tourney that ended Saturday night at the Glenmore court. Wingerd and Sowersby earned their title by staging a winning battle against the 1932 champions, Harold Baer and Joe McFate. The match ended with the fifth set.

The results of the match will tell the story of the battle that the former champions put up to retain their crown. Wingerd and Sowersby played a fast smashing game. Service aces were much in evidence. The score was 4-6, 6-4, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4. The first three sets were played last Friday and halted by darkness. Saturday night was the big windup.

Mayor Presents Cups
Mayor Charles Mayne was present at the Glenmore court and after Wingerd and Sowersby had the championship within their grasp stepped upon the court and after a brief introductory speech in which his Honor commended the champions for their courage and stamina and tennis ability, presented Lowell H. Wingerd the singles champion with a beautiful trophy cup, Sammy Pezzone the junior champion also received a handsome trophy, and Wingerd and Sowersby stepped forth to take the doubles cup, in the senior matches, and Sowersby Holm stepped forth to take the junior doubles cup. Quite a large crowd had gathered at the Glenmore court for the cup presentation and they gave lusty cheers as the various champions stepped up.

Kirk, Hutton and Company, sponsors of the tourney were commended by Mayor Mayne. There will be another tourney next year much bigger and better it was announced today by Mr. Caiazza. Tennis is slowly being revived in New Castle to a place in the sun.

Pirates-Giants Open Up Series

Lot Depends On Travis
Jackson As Giants Open
Final Crucial Western Trip

PIRATES WIN FROM CINCINNATI

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Ann Pennington had dimples on her knees and made a big hit on the stage. Travis Jackson has holes in his knees and it appeared today Mr. Jackson's joints may become far more famed than Ann's. In fact, the destiny of the New York Giants seemed to rest right in the man's lap, as the New Yorkers open a five-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates, now in second place seven and a half games behind the league-leading Giants.

Open Crucial Series
With only 28 games left to play, just how soon, and if, the Terrymen are going to win the National flag seemed to hang right on this one pair of knees. It's true Jackson's joints have stood up well enough since he replaced the ailing Johnny Vergez at third base last Friday, but those smart-playing Bucs may start things whizzing around Jackson in an altogether unhealthy fashion. Thoroughly knee-conscious as this series opens, the Pirates are not going to overlook a chance to concentrate on Jackson and scouts of the Washington Senators, considered a cinch to win the American League race, are going to center on the Giants' third baseman to see how he stands the test. Vergez, operated on for appendicitis last week, is definitely out of the world's series in the event the Giants get into it and the New Yorkers have no one to take his place except Jackson.

Pirates Beat Reds
The Pirates were cracking the ball a-plenty yesterday when they grabbed nine hits off St. Johnson and humbled the Cincinnati Reds 1 to 0. A single by Tommy Thevenaz scored Pie Traynor with the deciding counter in the ninth. Hal Smith was the winning pitcher, giving the Reds eight safeties.

Right behind the Pirates are the Chicago Cubs, who advanced into third place a few points ahead of Boston's Braves, by taking a twin bill, 6 to 4 and 5 to 2, from the St. Louis Cardinals. Dizzy Dean and Tex Carlton, star Cardinal hurlers, were the mound victims with Guy Bush and Charlie Root their conquerors. Guy Bush got an important homer for the Cubs in the opener and Harnett, Jack and Floyd Herman were the Bruin's heavy-hitting gents in the vesper.

Vosmik Injured
Cleveland scored a costly double win over St. Louis as pitcher Ed Wells hit Joe Vosmik, Indian's left fielder. The pitched ball broke the hand of Vosmik, who was an important factor in Cleveland's recent winning streak. He will be out for the rest of the season. Oral Hildebrand gave the Browns eight well-spaced hits in the first game and Bush and Harnett, 3 to 1 in ten innings. Clint Brown was the winning hurler in the second game, which the Indians rolled away 2 to 0. The victories stretched Cleveland's consecutive triumph to six and entrenched the club more firmly in third place.

Victor J. Dorrell was right for Detroit, giving Chicago's White Sox only four hits to win for the Tigers, 8 to 1. Elden Auker, rookie pitcher, held Chicago hitless for five innings in the second game and then began to weaken. Fred Marberry took over in the eighth and snaggled it for the Tigers, 5 to 4.

Others were idle.

Football Stars Will Wed Sisters

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Two former University of Southern California football stars will marry sisters.
Capt. Ray Brown of the victorious 1932 team will wed Helen Marion Tucker, 19, of South Pasadena, Cal., on Oct. 24 at Cincinnati where he has a coaching position.
His team mate, Ray Sparling, all-American end, will marry Hazel Tucker here Sept. 19.
The sisters, beautiful brunettes, were co-eds when they met the star gridmen.

High Gridders In Training At Taggart Stadium

New Castle High's tanned and husky squad of football men were out on the greensward of Taggart Stadium this afternoon and indulged in their first workout of the fall season at the local field. Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh greeted the candidates with an announcement that plenty of work is ahead if New Castle is to defeat Braddock High in the opening game.

The week at football camp served to put the players in fine shape. There were no serious injuries during the camp period. DeMartini suffered a cut over his eye when he slipped on the rocks, for the only casualty that kept any of the young gridders from training.

Scrimmages Resumed
Taggart Field presented a fine appearance as the gridders arrived early this morning to start rehearsals.

Nunn Enters Muny Finals

Defeats Willie Grommes On 20th Hole To Be Finalist
In City Title Event

NOLAN TO MEET M. K. GILLILAND

W. M. Nunn fought his way to the finals again in the Municipal title race, when he defeated Willie Grommes on the 20th hole, eliminating the brilliant young Muny player, after a hard battle.

Thomas E. "Tucker" Nolan, and M. K. Gilliland stand between Nunn and the title for the second successive year. Nolan defeated Dave Aston to enter the semi-finals, and will meet Gilliland this week to determine who is to fight it out with Nunn for the title.

If Gilliland should dispose of Nolan and then defeat Nunn for the title, it would not be a new experience, as he has held the Muny title before, having won it two years ago.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Control Press Association

ALEX. MORRISON says
Perhaps the most unprofitable thing a player can do is to practice bad shots.

This is exactly what a player does when he insists on hitting another ball right after he has topped, hooked or sliced a shot.

Invariably, he repeats his faulty swing and succeeds only in duplicating the bad shot.

The proper time to show that you can really make the shot is when you next come to that particular hole on which you fell down.

In the meantime do your practicing before you go out to play. Next: The Danger Area.

Rookie at 39!

Here's the Washington Senators latest rookie pitcher—Alex McCall. He's 39, an age at which most players retire. Washington bought McCall from the Chattanooga Southern association.

Ryantown Defeats Parkstown Twice

Ryantown Wins Both Games In Last Inning

Ryantown won a twin bill from Parkstown, Labor Day, taking one game seven to four and the other four to three. In the game played at Ryantown Carey struck out 11 and allowed nine hits. Schaeas fanned seven and gave only seven hits. Ryantown scored their fourth and winning run in the last inning.

Squad Of 30 At Union
High Field Monday

MORE EXPECTED TO COME OUT

Coach David M. Boyd greeted a squad of 30 young huskies at Union High football practice Monday afternoon for the first workout of the season. It is expected that when school opens the squad will be considerably larger. Union's first game will be with Ellwood City at Ellwood Saturday, Sept. 16.

(International News Service)
ALGONA, Mich., Sept. 5.—Another Harmsworth trophy race has passed into history, and the famous bronze plaque that means world water speed supremacy remains securely in the possession of the United States today.

The story of the 19th Harmsworth is the same story that has been told for 13 years, and its hero is the same hero, the white-haired master strategist, Gar Wood of Grayhaven, Ga. Game to the end, Hubert Scott-Paine, red-haired British challenger, went down to defeat on the River St. Clair yesterday, his little all-metal Miss Britain III outclassed by Wood's mighty Miss America X.

With more than a quarter of a mile to spare, the "fox of Grayhaven" coasted across the finish line in the second heat of the race to add one more victory to a string of triumphs unbroken since 1920. Saturday to win the first heat, leading the Miss Britain by almost three miles.

Kennedy To Battle Rocco

Rocco, Adamo, Cutic, Barry, Marino, Pagley, Others Carded

District champs and near champs will grace the next fistic calendar at Castle Bowl, according to announcement today, eight matches having been made for next Monday night.

Among those who will sling gloves are such popular 'millers' as George Rocco, 135, Ellwood City; Mickey Cutic, Youngstown, 112 and Tony Adamo of New Castle.

In addition to these tried and found box battlers, Custy Marino, Chuck Arnett, Eddie Ciccone, Gene Kennedy, Sonny Harry and others have been signed by Ed. Fritz.

Those acquainted with the boys know for a certainty that when they step into the ring the fans will get plenty of action; in fact plenty more than they received August 28 and that was plenty.

Rocco will tackle Gene Kennedy, formerly of New Castle, who won the amateur championship of the Youngstown middleweights 145 and 155. This ought to be a sensational scrap.

Cutic captured the Youngstown 112 pound title and will give Sonny Barry a return chance here. This city will be neutral ground this ought to be a spectacular flyweight contest.

Eddie Ciccone of Meadville, holds the northwestern Pennsylvania district title for 147 pounds. He won a decision from Adamo at Conneaut Lake recently.

Here's Punch Affair.
Adamo had Ciccone on the canvas twice but the Meadville boy put up a sterling scrap and got the decision. Adamo believes it was rendered erroneously and wants to stop Ciccone if such is possible.

Custy Marino of Ellwood City, and Charley Arnett of West Pittsburg are bitter rivals. They are lightweights. This scrap without a doubt will prove one of the best matches, pro or amateur, held here.

Popular Yankee Pagley will tackle Lew Tamber of Farrell. Tamber, is a dynamic scrapper and with Pagley as his opponent there will be action every moment.

Sam Cretella of Campbell will meet Pete Branzovitch and Eddie Owens of New Castle will meet Mike Grayack of Ellwood.

Young De Mott who is hoping to win a place on Phil Bredenbaugh's football squad will take on Frankie Rachig of Bessemer in the opening bout.

Next Monday night's scraps will start at nine o'clock daylight savings time.

Render Decisions On Protest Games

The commissioners decided that Travers was ineligible to play with Castle Flats and also with the Tigers.

West Pittsburg's game with Castle Flats and Bessemer's tilt with the Tigers were ordered played. The commission also ruled that the Orr A. C. should not have played Ed Culbertson against Bessemer and ordered the game replayed.

In addition to these complaints the commission decided that the um-

Ellwood City Men Dispute Horseshoe Claims Made Here

Challenge Kelso And Johnson To Contest For This Evening

George Kelso and William Johnson may be good players in the horseshoe court and they may be able to make a lot of ringers and defeat the average horseshoe pitcher, but they have a long way to go before they have proven they are the best in the state or even the county, according to Patrick Callahan and Curley Gillespie, two members of the horseshoe pitching fraternity residing in Ellwood City.

Now Messrs. Callahan and Gillespie think they are pretty good, but have not yet set forth any claims to the county state championship, but they are quite willing and anxious to toss shoes in competition with Messrs. Kelso and Johnson, and as far as that goes, with anybody that thinks they are of championship timber, as they have a feeling, they say, that they might possibly have a chance of reaching those heights themselves.

The Ellwood City men have issued a challenge to Messrs. Kelso and Johnson to meet them in competition this evening at seven o'clock at the court at Allen and Taylor streets, and will be there to do their best to eliminate Messrs. Kelso and Johnson from the county and state championship.

Grid Squad Has First Scrimmage

Forty Players Get Into The Scrimmage Session On Saturday Morning

TWO MORE WEEKS BEFORE FIRST GAME

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 5.—All aspirants for Ellwood City high's varsity grid team were given a long and arduous tryout for their position Saturday when Coach "Garry" Benedict and Mike Ferrara conducted their first scrimmage after concluding a week's program of conditioning and training.

The most impressive team on the field lined up, with Bettioni and Tammaro at the wings, Novalesio and Young at the tackles, Stockman and Kaufman at the guards, Pishonieri at center, Bunny at the signal calling post, Frans and Lamenza at the halfback posts and Menice at full. They opposed a strong team composed of Hall and Hassen at the ends, Blesett and Vetic at the tackles, Shires and Manzo at the guards, Kraynak at center, Pavuk at quarter, Metz and Ottaviano, halfbacks, and B. Young, full.

During the entire scrimmage frequent changes in the line-ups were made by the coaches. Players would exchange from one team to another or else new men would be substituted. Corrections would be made as seen fit. Fine performances were turned in by Bunny, Frans, Young and Ottaviano in the backfield, and Pishonieri, Stockman, Kaufman, Young, Bettioni, Tammaro, Shires and Vetic in the line.

Coaches Benedict and Ferrara are not too optimistic on their possibilities for the season. They face the difficult task of making eleven from one letterman, Milton Luxenberg, fullback, around whom their offensive will be built. Much hope has been placed in the new colored lad, Alfred Beane, who has made a remarkable impression in the spring and early fall training.

Ellwood high will be facing one of the hardest schedules in its history. To face this schedule will be one of the lightest squads ever had here. At its best the team could not average more than 155 pounds. It is expected that it more than likely will hit 150 pounds.

Most of the members of the present squad of about 60 have benefitted from eight weeks of spring training and the past pre-school period. There are still two more weeks of development before the first game here with Union township on September 14.

Day School Credit Will Be Given For Night Courses Here

Ellwood High School To Recognize Work Done In High School Courses

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 5.—Starting this year the students completing satisfactorily courses in type-writing, shorthand and bookkeeping, may if they desire, receive day school credit for their work. Two semesters of work in night school will be equivalent to one semester of day school.

This is probably one of the outstanding improvements of the night school for this year and furnishes a contribution to the educational program of Ellwood City which is worthy of comment. This plan if successful will later include other courses for which students may receive high school credit with the thought in mind that those who are desirous of a high school diploma may earn one in night school.

This plan is particularly well fitted for a great many people who were forced to leave school before graduation. One, two or three subjects may be all they need to graduate, perhaps a semester of work is needed; all this can be worked out in night school. The work, the instruction, the time, are all comparable to the day school program.

This improvement has resulted largely from requests of students desiring such courses and also from the thought that night school as a permanent institution must go on. With a group of students attempting to secure credits for graduation the future of night school in Ellwood City is assured.

The administration would be pleased to answer any questions relative to this proposed plan. If sufficient interest is shown for any particular course not included in the plan for this year, steps will be taken in an effort to add to the selection.

Pretty Wedding Solemnized Monday

Using the single ring ceremony Rev. Fr. Schramm performed the rites in the presence of about 150 relatives and friends.

The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with clusters of garden flowers and greenery forming a pretty setting. The bride was charmingly attired in a smart gray ensemble of crepe with matching accessories and she carried a bouquet of gorgeously colored summer flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Landis Wimer of Knox, Pa., sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. Mr. Peter Christoppe of Pleasant Hill, using the single ring ceremony Rev. Fr. Schramm performed the rites in the presence of about 150 relatives and friends.

Immediately following the congratulatory period the couple went to the home of the bride's parents where a wedding dinner served at 1 o'clock supplemented the ceremony. Places were arranged for a large number of relatives and friends of the immediate families at attractively appointed tables. A large adorned wedding cake formed the centerpiece for the brides table. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Margaret Fritch and daughter, Rosella of Pittsburgh, Joseph Schweiger and sons and L. R. and Mrs. P. J. Luger, all of Beaver Falls.

Ten Thousand At Park Labor Day

Dance Pavilion, Restaurant
And Glenn Pool Remains Open

Ten thousand people thronged Cascade Park Labor Day night, according to C. C. Coulthard, superintendent.

The crowds started flowing to the park late in the afternoon and the pyrotechnical display was all that one desired the park officials stated. The parking ground was packed with automobiles and while most of the concessions will be closed to-day Coulthard said the dance pavilion, restaurant, swimming pool and grove would remain open.

Persons, or organizations, who wish to use the corn roaster at the grove or to hold basket dinners, can do so, Coulthard stated. Among the organizations which will hold a corn roast there Wednesday is the Nation Wide Stores.

The park superintendent said that the season under municipal control has been very successful. He added that "the park has paid its own way."

Girl Flier Is Crash Victim

Investigators Find Torn Wing Fabric Responsible For Killing Of Girl Flier

CRASH OCCURS AT GLENVIEW, ILL.

(International News Service)
CURTIS FIELD, Glenview, Ill., Sept. 5.—Investigators blamed torn wing fabric today for the crash that killed Miss Florence Klingensmith, 26, of Minneapolis, as she gunned her plane at 220 miles an hour in the final free-for-all speed classic of the International air races.

The aviatrix had completed three-fourths of the 100 mile closed course and was in fourth place when the 40,000 spectators saw a piece of the right wing fabric tear loose. Sensing the danger, she zoomed her racing ship upward and headed south of the field and the plane crashed in a ravine one mile and a half away.

Her body was thrown clear of the wreckage. Investigators found that she apparently had tried to use her parachute but the plane crashed too soon.

Wedell Sets Record
James R. Wedell of Patterson, La., established a new world's speed record for land planes at an average rate of 305.33 miles an hour, more than five miles per minute. Maj. Jimmy Doolittle's former speed record for land planes was 264.38 miles per hour. Wedell flew a racer of his own design.

Following this record breaking performance Wedell went on to win the speed event in which Miss Klingensmith died.
